Gaspar Magistar's Legacy of Sacred Architecture laid the foundation for his rapid advancements inventing technologies which integrate super-learning systems, efficiency experiences, multiplication mastery, geometric stargates, immersion instruments, celestial chambers & holographic harmonics.

With his core focus on bridging science + spirituality, Gaspar made enormous breakthroughs in his deep research navigating oceans of data to merge quantum science with metaphysics.

Expanding from a life of constructing power places & teaching conscious communities, Gaspar branched even further. His pioneering bodies of work converge timeless technologies with career contributions to corporate consulting, performing arts, event productions, concerts & ceremonies.

Decades of Reverse-engineering the universal codex thru his encounters with world leaders & his curated collections of artifacts from libraries of innovations allowed Gaspar to create a revolutionary "Media Matrix" { M2 } Instrument. Stationary & portable, modular & scalable, the combinations of elements for M2 immersions and interactions are always unique every time it is activated.

Legendary stories come to life as the mythologies of all ages converge in the wow of now. Everyone is given the opportunity to feel the full force of center stage. Children understand these multi-dimensional languages. Adults sometimes require more exposures. M2 is also designed to allow each participants own experiences to be optimized whether staged within private chambers or public venues.

Melissa Mace Studied photography at the Rochester Institute of Technology and expanded upon this into an exploration of natural and digital inter-communications.

Her inspiration and creative expression derive from photographic vignettes found on her walks in nature.

As she tunes into the voice of the earth & listens to the subtle world-wide rhythms within, she is able to reveal the hidden dimensions in each exquisite piece of Art .

From these deep impressions, her photographic archives are then focalized and fractalized into digital multi-dimensions to reveal the nature spirit hidden in each imperceptible vignette.

In her own words ..."I love being able to see and feel the light, even when we are sleeping and we think there is dark... Oh, how I love dreams. "

Every single person that participates in the chamber multiplies the power of toroidal flow. Those that touch the Stargate will certainly feel the effects. Those that pass through the hub will be aligning their prannic presence with the core of a universal energy field that bridges quantum and celestial realms.

Elements Offered in Every Installation:

Water Vessels for Water Blessings:

In ancient times and now more than ever, we realize the power of water to resurrect the message of the spiritual life-force and light-force in us all.

Chrysalis and the Intricacy of “Water is Life...”

Situated at a point of opening is a well of sacred waters infused with rosewater, floating petals of flowers, herbs and other flora, crystals and sacred geometry. Each bespoke ceremonial expression facilitated by KA’ryna SH’ha and Team is unique to the living breathing awareness flowing through the dynamics and interplay of what is called forth and then collected in the sacred waters. Each Vessel is utilized to collect the Nectar or Amrit of the whole vibratory ceremonial Stargate experience.

Amrit is a word that literally means “immortality” and is often referred to in spiritual texts as nectar or ambrosia. Said to provide a deeper awareness of the fluid Prannic life-force and Purified Presence of the light-force that flows through all Ascending Consciousness.

A secondary Glass Beverage Dispenser filled with the same ingredients is placed nearby collecting the same nectar.

After each Ceremonial Circle the waters are then handed out to participants who wish to receive further blessing and anointing.

While the sacred waters vessel is reserved for the hosts land, building, home, and business. Placed at cardinal points surrounding the space this offering of the waters honors and blesses the location of its origination....and if possible to the nearest body of water for completion and closure of the ceremonial experience.

A small reserve of the Amrit infused water is collected and placed in a tiny glass container which is then offered as a homeopathic remembrance of the Chrysalis Journey of Transformation.

Note: To maintain the purity of each Chrysalis Ceremony we believe it is important to utilize the waters from the location where each installation is situated...whether they are bottled or tap water.

Your Participation: We ask that you please provide...

A crystal or glass water bowl the size of a punch bowl or larger to contain your water vessel experience. Along with a glass ladle or high quality BPA-free plastic Roses: Ideally organic the color of white, violet or pink.

Glass Beverage Dispenser: To dispense the waters to participants for further personal use in anointing and blessing.

Vibrational Tools and Sacred Instruments:

Bon (Tibetan) Singing Bowls

KA'ryna has been gifted a rare antique one-thousand-year-old singing bowl that plays 7 unique tonal frequencies. It was a reliquary item from a lineage of a Tibetan Rinpoche.

It sat collecting dust on friend's shelf because it was believed to be un-playable. No-one who attempted to play it could get it to sing.

As soon as it was her hands and she began to play it, the sounds that came forth astonished those that heard it.

Gaspar found his own unique bowl after testing hundreds over a multi-year search to find just the right one that would bring forth the qualities of a wind harp gong sound. In a small shop in upstate NY he discovered the treasure he had been searching for.

Crystal Singing Bowls:

KA'ryna was gifted with 2 powerful crystal bowls from one of the original first manufactured bowls ever made. These bowls came from a sound master who used the bowls in a sacred sound chamber created by Joseph Rael (Beautiful Painted Arrow)

<https://www.manataka.org/page1627.html> .

KA'ryna was privileged to create a special ceremony in this specific sound chamber where very few may go without special permission from its keeper.

Artists Statement

<https://www.karynashha.com/art-gallery>

"I AM a Creative Conduit for Universal Energies to flow through...the designs that stream through reflect a multi-blossoming of the spirit in each creation. Each work is alive with the intent to germinate consciousness into a deeper awareness of the intrinsic presence in all things and a higher cognition of a vast and mysterious nature, pervading all dimensions in All Ways."

The Design, Divination, and Creative Process:

KA'ryna offerings emerge from the heart of her spiritual and sacred well of wisdom. In each of her designs she is exploring the inception point of its unfoldment...how it arrives, comes into form and is present for us all to witness and experience.

When she is in creation mode she becomes a conduit for the Muses or Devas (inspirations) that surround each Design. These designers in higher and deeper dimensions are her consultants who assist in the shaping and constructing of the creation.

As such, KA'ryna becomes an artistic antennae that picks up the subtle frequencies of each design construction and conception. In her process she allows the natural flow of each artistic expression to emerge from its place in the cosmos.

Each design can take many days to meditate upon and then many more hours to weeks to show up upon the canvas of her creativities. She does not rush the flow, she moves along with it to its desired destination.

Artist and Metaphysician:

Looking deeply into the unified field of divine perception, KA'ryna SH'ha deciphers the super-conscious codes of creation to form an exquisite work of art. Like sacred mirrors, they allow us to embrace our divine essence from a whole new perspective.

KA'ryna's designs are slices of cosmic consciousness in ratios of radiance, to open up multi-dimensional aspects of the receiver (you). They transmit a fractal language of phi ratio proportions in sacred symmetries. As we go higher and deeper in levels of our own Inner-Mastery.

KA'ryna's artworks are an expression of her teachings, healings, and are an ultimate doorway and extension of the facets of her multi-dimensional being! They emanate the colors of her radiant heart and transmit the sacred languages of her Ascended Essence
